

BOTH PUMPERS TO ANSWER ALARMS

City Council Agrees on Policy Regarding Fire Department, Following Regular Meeting

NEW FIREMAN EMPLOYED

Seven Paid Men Now on Duty. With Three Men Assigned to Each Pumper—Siren Will Not be Bought

A definite conclusion regarding the policy of the fire department was reached by members of the city council following their regular session Tuesday night, and a plan adopted which will be given a try-out, following the complete motorization of the department.

The department now has three pieces of motorized equipment, consisting of pumpers 1 and 2, and the chemical truck. The policy adopted was based on what equipment to send to alarms, and resulted in the decision that the two pumpers should answer all general alarms.

The Ford chemical will be held at the fire station to answer calls where flues are reported to be burning out, to automobile fires, or to rural districts where there is no available water supply.

One new man was added to the department, Harry Holmes, who went on duty at noon today. This brings the fire force up to 7 paid men, and of this number 6 will be on duty at all times, excepting short periods during the dinner hours. Each fireman is permitted one day and night off each week, and on certain days all 7 men will be on duty.

Each pumper will have three men assigned to it, and practically any fireman can operate the chemical truck if it is needed. The instructions given to Fire Chief Williamson state that the new pumper, known as pumper 2, shall take the lead to the fires, because it is equipped with the booster hose line to fight fires where chemicals are generally used.

The other pumper can lay the hose lines, if necessary, or if the blaze is small, and can be handled by the one piece of equipment, then the other truck is to be sent back to the fire station, to provide protection for the rest of the city.

It is expected that some opposition to the plan will be made, because many people figure that the chemical truck is the most valuable piece of equipment on hand, and should be sent with the rest of the trucks.

It was pointed out today that the chemical truck can hold a good sized fire in check while the other two pumpers are laying hose lines and hooking up to plugs. Councilmen maintain, however, that the fire force is not sufficient to handle all three pieces of equipment. If the force is not up to the manpower strength, then it should be increased.

CHAPMAN STARTED BACK UNDER A HEAVY GUARD

Man Rated as One of Most Dangerous Criminals Double-Handcuffed and Put in Leg Irons

FIVE GUARDS ARE IN CHARGE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Gerald Chapman, rated by federal authorities as one of the most dangerous criminals in the country, was on his way back to the federal prison at Atlanta this afternoon under heavy guard.

Chapman was double handcuffed and put in leg irons and was hurried through side streets from the county jail to the Union Station where he was taken up the freight elevator and put on board the train for Atlanta.

Five guards were in charge of the prisoner and an automobile load of Department of Justice men armed with revolvers and riot guns trailed closely behind the machine in which the prisoner was taken to the station. Chapman is being taken back to Atlanta to finish serving his sentence for a $2,000,000 mail robbery in New York. He escaped from the prison in April 1924, and was recaptured by detectives in Muncie, Ind., last Sunday.

Nothing to Prevent Transfer of Masonic Temple This Evening

There is nothing to prevent the transfer of the second floor of the Masonic Temple to Phoenix Lodge No. 62, at the housewarming tonight, because the money to pay off all indebtedness against Phoenix Masonic Temple association, owner of the building, was deposited in the Rush County National bank this afternoon it was stated with authority.

The statement was issued to offset rumors that the plan to turn the second story over to the lodge debt-free had failed. The name of the purchaser of the first floor of the building was withheld as the deal was completed today so that the lodge could be given formal possession this evening.

MINORITY REPORT KILLED IN SENATE

Bill Prohibiting Wearing of Religious Emblems by School Teachers Sent to Graveyard

OPENS FORENSIC FIREWORKS

Eloquent Politician and Religious Speeches and Sermons on Question Precede Vote

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Ku Klux Klan forces were overwhelmingly defeated in the state senate today.

After a series of fiery and eloquent political and religious speeches and sermons, the senate voted 41 to 6, killing a minority committee report which recommended passage of the Senator Sims bill prohibiting the wearing of any religious emblem or garment by teachers in the public schools of Indiana.

The senate also postponed action until tomorrow on a minority report recommending passage of the Sims bill requiring the reading of the Bible in public schools.

The name of the Klan was brought out first on the floor by Senator Chambers of Newcastle, during debate on the emblem and robe bill.

"This is one of the reputed Ku Klux Klan bills," Senator Chambers declared, "it seems to be a much avoided topic among the members of the majority of this house. I want to have an opportunity to bring the Klan question out on the floor."

Senator Sims explained the bill and said that six counties of the state teachers in public schools wear black robes and crucifixes while teaching school.

This was the spark that started off the fireworks. Senator Nejd, of Whiting, declared that the bill had no business on the files of the senate.

"It even goes to the extent that a school teacher could not even wear a pin pertaining to any religious sect," he declared.

Sensor Daily, Indianapolis, supported Senator Nejd, declaring that he attended the Christian church, married a Methodist, and had raised three children to be Presbyterians.

"A little religion won't hurt anybody," he declared. "I love anyone who takes religion sincerely, whether he be a Catholic, Protestant, or Jew. But this bill would even prevent a school teacher from wearing a button of the Mystic Shrine."

First Presbyterian Church Started 100 Years Ago With 29 Members

Names of Those Who Attended First Meeting to Organize Congregation Are Familiar in Rushville Today. Three-Day Centennial Celebration Begins Thursday

A complete program of the First Presbyterian church centennial program opening Thursday and continuing until Sunday evening, will be found on page eight of today's issue.

The First Presbyterian church made its start with twenty-nine members one hundred years ago, January 22, 1825, and preparations have been completed for a fitting celebration of the church's centennial with an elaborate program that opens Thursday and continues until Sunday evening.

It will be a century to a day, tomorrow, since the Rev. J. F. Crowe, then president of Hanover college, and a minister, the Rev. James S. Johnson, came to Rushville to gather the people of the Presbyterian faith together and try to effect some organization.

The following persons met with them on that day: James Walker and Rebecca, his wife; Thomas Downard and Margaret, his wife; John Walker and Margaret, his wife; Robert Walker and Martha, his wife; Wm. Junkin and Elizabeth, his wife; Robert English and Elizabeth, his wife; Wm. B. Laughlin and Ruth, his wife; James Anderson and Mary, his wife; Noble Junkin and Nancy, his wife; John Hawkins and Betsy, his wife.

Prayer was offered and the church was pronounced constituted. It was unanimously resolved that the church should be denominated "The Rushville Church." Two elders were elected, James Walker and Thomas Downard.

Again the same day the session of the church met and accepted James Anderson and his wife, formerly members of the Seeder Church in Ireland, and Mrs. Ann Veder on examination.

The next day, January 23, the session met and received Horatio G. Sexton, Mrs. Sarah Perry and Mrs. Leffer on examination; William Beale and Margaret, his wife, and Mrs. Sarah Jackson by certificate.

Thus the church had its beginning with twenty-nine members. Many of these names are familiar in Rushville today.

Thursday night the Rev. Harry L. Crain, D. D., pastor of the church at Frankfort and Moderator of the Synod of Indiana, will preach the opening sermon in celebration of this great event in Rushville's history. All people of the city are urged to take part in celebration of this occasion.

The committee in charge of the Men's Dinner Friday night are now expecting over one hundred men to

OMER TRUSLER SPEAKS AT ANNIVERSARY MEET

Speaks to Newcastle Club at Celebration of Birthday of Kiwanis International Tuesday

PAUL ALLEN SPEAKS ALSO

Omer Trusler of this city, immediate past secretary of Kiwanis, district of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the Newcastle club's celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International, at Newcastle Tuesday. Paul Allen, president of the Rushville club also was a guest and spoke briefly.

Mr. Trusler urged the Kiwanis members to take advantage of the opportunities offered today to render service. "Many of us are inclined to think about yesterday and imagine tomorrow," said Mr. Trusler, "and in doing so are overlooking the big thing—today. I would emphasize the importance of today. Yesterday was and tomorrow will be. The future depends largely on what we give in service today." He declared that Kiwanians were spending too much time in thinking about tomorrow and pointed out that the smallest service rendered today may become the greatest deeds of tomorrow. His address was greatly enjoyed and he held the attention of his audience.

Mr. Allen told how the Rushville club had created cooperation between the business men and the farmers. Other guests were Donald L. Smith of Rushville; F. H. Warner of Greenfield, and Judge Ellis of Anderson.

JOYCE IS AWARDED JUDGMENT FOR $10

Question of Costs, Which are Larger Than Judgment, Not Settled in Lawyer's Fee Case

INJUNCTION SUIT THURSDAY

Hearing on Petition of I. & C. and C. I. & W. Railroad to Prevent Paving Assessment

In the law suit of John F. Boyd against Chester M. George, a complaint for attorney fees, the jury decided the case late Tuesday in favor of the plaintiff, and awarded him $10 judgment, on his demand for $25. The question of who shall pay the costs, which amount to more than the judgment, has not been settled.

The case was the third trial in the cause, with the first being before Justice Stech, who granted the plaintiff his full demand, and at the second trial, the jury failed to agree causing it to be tried for the third time Tuesday. The jury was out six hours before a verdict was returned. Mr. George offered to confess judgment for $10 in squire's court.

The action involving the injunction suit against the City of Rushville, as filed by the C. I. & W. railroad and the I. & C. Traction company, seeking to enjoin the city from assessing damages against them for alleged benefits from the Morgan street paving, will be heard in court Thursday morning. The action involves a hearing before the court, without a jury.

The jury will not be used any more this term of court, and arrangements are now being made to close up the business, as the court term ends Saturday. Next week will be vacation, and the February court term will convene on February 2.

In the complaint of the Capitol Lumber Company against William Hardwick, a suit on an account, judgment has been entered for $100.50 and costs.

GOVERNOR VISITS LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

Robert E. Huen of Richmond Discusses Practical Application of Business Ethics

FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE

Points Out That Understanding and Good Will May be Accomplished Through Business Men

Robert E. Huen of Richmond, district governor of Indiana Rotary clubs, made his annual visit to the Rushville club at its regular meeting Tuesday noon at the Social club, and following an address to the club, held an executive session with the directors.

Mr. Huen discussed the practical side of Rotary and dwelt on the fact that accomplishment of its sixth object, international understanding, peace and good will, will be possible only through the practice of ethical methods in business and professions.

The district governor pointed out that there was great prospect of bringing about a better understanding between nations through business and professional men, than through the other two existing agencies, diplomats and missionaries.

The foundation of Rotary is business, he showed, because a man could not be a member if he did not have a business, which thus entitles him to a Rotary classification. Therefore, he reasoned, Rotary must function through business and Rotarians must carry back to other men in the same business the ethical standards to which Rotary aspires.

Mr. Huen said that the business man who does not follow the right practices in dealing with his customers is being forced out of business because the old policy of "Let the customer beware" no longer prevails. The successful business man, he pointed out, is the one who puts the customer's interests first.

The district governor recited an incident that came to his attention while he was in business in Japan, to show how unfair practices by one business man reacted unfavorably on all business dealings between Japan and the United States.

It is the duty of Rotary he showed to use existing agencies to promote projects in the community, instead of creating new organizations. No other agency can take the place of public schools in work among boys, he declared, and urged that the local club always work in perfect harmony.

LEE THOMAS DIES IN CHICAGO

The deceased, together with his family, has been living in Chicago for several months, where he was taking a course in a chiropractic school. He had been ill for several weeks and had undergone several operations. He is survived by the widow and one son, Frazier Thomas. The body will arrive here Friday afternoon and will be taken to the home of Mrs. Johnson, where funeral services will be held, to be announced later.

CITY WATER MAINS WILL BE EXTENDED

Council Moves to Give Fire Protection in New Residential Section, Work to Start in Spring

INSURANCE ADJUSTER HERE

Prospect of Lower Rates Seen With Acquisition of New Pumper and Better Water Supply

Plans for extending the water mains into the new addition of Rushville, known as Stewart and Stewart's addition, and also across into the Belmont addition, were taken up at the regular session of the city council Tuesday evening, and work along this line will begin in the spring.

The extension of the water mains was recommended by the insurance underwriters in order to provide adequate fire protection in the district that is now without much protection, and also to provide water service to many homes in the Belmont addition.

The water main will be nearly a mile in length. It will start at Ninth and Sexton streets, extending to Eleventh, and then across through the park to Thirteenth street. The main will go east down Thirteenth to the Rushville Furniture factory, and dead ends in Main, Perkins and other streets will be connected with the main line, to be an 8 inch water line.

A survey of conditions here was made last week and it is stated that prospects are in sight for a lower fire insurance rate for Rushville, in view of the fact that the water mains are to be extended, and a bigger water supply is available at a well south of the city. The addition of the new fire truck, also will figure in the adjustment of rates.

The well south of Rushville is to be equipped with an 8 inch pipe line, and with the equipment that is being installed at the plant, it will be capable of supplying 3½ million gallons of water a day.

Regulation pumper hydrants will probably be installed at intervals along the new line extension. The pumper hydrant has a 6 inch opening for a vast water supply to accommodate the fire engines, and it is expected that hydrants of this type will be placed in the business district, so that pumpers can be supplied with more water from the city mains in case of a serious fire.

Last night was the time set for receiving bids on the sale of the two fire horses, but no one offered a bid. There were many persons inquiring about the horses before the sale, but they all hesitated in making an offer. The fire committee was instructed to sell the horses to anyone who makes the best offer.

Three additional car loads of crushed stone were ordered to be placed on the streets. The street department is now busy working over the streets and is making a good job.

DITCH THE BUTTS, HERE COMES AN ANTI "CIG" LAW

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Ditch the butts, gang!
Another cigarette law is in the making. Thomas B. Brown, of Mt. Vernon, a member of the 1923 legislature, is in Indianapolis with the avowed purpose of presenting his famous anti-cigarette bill which failed of passage when he was in the legislature.

Although Brown declined to disclose provisions of the proposed law, it was learned the bill will be similar to the one he sponsored two years ago, which provided for a three-cent tax on every package of cigarettes sold and a one-cent tax of cigarette papers.

Brown said that the reason the 1923 bill failed was because it would have thrown all proceeds to the state general fund. This difficulty has been eliminated, he said, by dividing all revenues to the school fund.

Proponents of anti-cigarette legislation are handicapped at this session because neither Brown nor John A. Peterson, former representative from Swayzee, co-author of the 1923 session are members of the present legislature. However, Brown is seeking an enemy of cigarettes among the lawmakers of this session who will present his measure and stand sponsor for it.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c in jars and tubes.

OPPOSITION TO
REPORT DEVELOPS

Senator James J. Nedjl, Republican Floor Leader, Calls it "Revolutionary and Radical"

CONSTABULARY CAMOUFLAGE

Creating Board of Public Safety Through Combination of Boards is Criticized

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Opposition to the recommendations of Governor Jackson's survey committee developed among members of the legislature today.

The report of the committee, which was appointed by Jackson last fall to study state institutions and departments, recommended sweeping changes in the structure of the government.

Senator James J. Nedjl, of Whiting, Republican floor leader in the senate, described the report as "revolutionary and radical."

The move to create a board of public safety through combination of boards having police power is nothing more than a state constabulary in camouflage, he said.

Nedjl also took issue with the proposal to reduce the membership of the state industrial board from five to three members.

"The board was increased to five members because of the large volume of business it must handle, and it is still unable to keep up with its work," Nedjl said.

The senate leader also scored the recommendation that the office of state superintendent of public instruction be made an appointive office instead of elective.

"That change must never be made if the state schools are to be kept free of political domination," Nedjl said. "An organization might control one man, but it can't control the votes of all the people."

Several members of the legislature expressed opposition to the move to abolish the state printing board and give its work to the purchasing department. Other recommendations were questioned in discussions of senators and representatives.

Governor Jackson declared he had no comment to make on the committee's proposals and would leave the report entirely up to the legislature for rejection or adoption.

John H. Kiplinger of this city is a member of Governor Jackson's survey committee, which has prepared a report recommending radical changes in state government. Other members are Arthur Baxter of Indianapolis, former state chairman, and Lawrence Cartwright of Portland.

BOTH PUMPERS TO

others argue.

The salary of two extra men for the department during a year might save more property than one fire does damage, and it was pointed out today that taxpayers should be afforded the best possible protection, even if it were necessary to bring the manpower up to what it should be in order to handle the equipment.

The electric siren which is here on a trial, and which was being considered to take the place of the fire bell, will not be bought, because the siren fails to carry the sound sufficiently to all parts of the city. A steam siren or whistle is now being considered.

EDWARDS NOT TO TESTIFY

Washington, Jan. 21—Senator Edward I. Edwards, New Jersey democrat, charged with being implicated with a New Jersey bootlegger ring, made known today that he will not testify in the Jersey City liquor trial in which his name was mentioned, on his own initiative. His appearance must be requested by a responsible party, he said.

BUS REGULATION
NOW CONSIDERED

Senator Moorhead has Bill Concerning Traffic Problems, Similar to One That was Defeated

CONCERNS BUSES, TRUCKS

Would be Classified as Common Carriers, Subject to Public Service Commission Rulings

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Another move to regulate busses, and trucks serving as common carriers in Indiana was in progress in the legislature today.

Senator Moorhead, of Indianapolis, has introduced a bus bill similar in many respects to his measure which went through the senate two years ago and was defeated in the house.

The bill provides for state licensing of trucks and busses and for their regulation by the state public service commission.

Under the bill all motor vehicles carrying passengers or property for compensation would be subject to the regulation, with the exception of taxicabs, hotel busses, school busses and funeral busses.

The public service commission would be vested with authority to draw up regulations for the licensing of the carriers and their operation.

Holders of licenses would be required to put up a surety bond approved by the commission to cover inquiries to persons or damage to property suffered through negligent operation of the vehicles.

The bill specifies that licenses shall be granted only after a public hearing by the commission at which railroads and interurbans which would be affected by the competition of the new carriers could be represented.

Both Governor Branch and Governor Jackson in their messages to the legislature recommended state regulation of the busses and trucks, and advised that the power to regulate be given to the public service commission.

Bus interests of the state, however, will fight to have the authority given to the state highway commission.

Truck owners have declared in favor of leaving the whole question of regulation open for two years more while a commission appointed by the state investigates the problems of the new form of transportation and recommends specific regulatory measures.

SERVICES TO LAST ONE HOUR

Revival Meeting to be Limited Due to Masonic Housewarming

Revival services at the Main Street Christian church, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, will continue only one hour this evening, it was announced today by the evangelist, the Rev. Joseph D. Waters, so that members of the congregation will have an opportunity to attend the Masonic housewarming afterwards.

The subject of the sermon tonight will be, "What It Will Take to Move Rushville". Services were resumed Tuesday evening with a sermon by the Rev. Mr. Waters on the subject "Mutual Sympathy and Burden Bearing." A good sized audience was in attendance and a duet and vocal solo were features of the meeting. Special music is being arranged for each night.

MINORITY REPORT
KILLED IN SENATE

Senator Holmes of Gary objected to the measure and declared that much of the educational problems today are due to the fact that lawmakers will not leave educators alone.

The bill was not sponsored by the counties which is would affect, Senator Moorehead of Indianapolis, declared and charged that there were other motives behind it.

He said Roman Catholic instructors were employed in the public schools there in order that the townships may save money.

TO HAVE ANOTHER INNING

Dayton, O., Jan. 21—Morton D. Hawkins of Portland, Ind., indicted by the Indiana grand jury for use of the mails in connection with an alleged ten million dollar stock swindle, will have another inning before United States Commissioner Andrew Iddings today.

How Do You Explain It?

Newspapers have editorialized, ministers of the gospel have criticized and scientists have pondered Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old San Francisco matricide, but Dorothy is still laughing with life, we are told in newspaper dispatches.Her philosophy is "I want to have a good time." She started at the age of twelve to exact all the pleasure life had to offer. Her mother, seeing the black flyss toward which Dorothy was headed, sought to change her course.Dorothy grew weary of constant interference and took her mother's life—then went to another party. In jail, she displays no remorse and no pity, either for herself or others.What queer twist is it that makes it possible for her to be so merce-less and brazen? What kind of a life philosophy must one have to be able to show such demeanor—an affront to common decency?Girls and boys have done unprecedented things in this age of thrills,
but none has yet approached the heinous crime that this young girl
has committed.Although the average small community does not have the allurements that wean young folks away from home, such as the large centers of population, there are enough to give pause to parents, wherever they may live.No such a fate in life awaits the ordinary girl, because this girl's deed is extraordinary—without precedent, but her life was ordinary.
There was no poverty in her home
and she had no reason for following the wrong path.Dorothy's parents quarreled and separated, unable to agree how her conduct should be regulated. Her brother was estranged. If there was strife in the family, it was not the cause, but the effect of her waywardness.The psychologists may be expect-

Without Precedent

Secretary Hoover, in an address
before the National Conference on street and highway safety, asked for the co-operation of all interests in an effort to reduce the now rapidly increasing number of deaths and injuries due to traffic accidents. He stated that there were 22,000 such deaths and 678,000 serious injuries
last year and that nearly 80 percent of the highway accidents were due to the automobile.All the rules, regulations and laws that can be passed will be of little or no avail so long as any man or woman can buy an automobile one minute, step into the state licensing
department and get a permit to drive
the next minute, regardless of his familiarity with the car, its operation or road rules. No other piece of machinery in the world is operated
on such a haphazard basis. The marvel is that instead of 22,000 deaths a year, there are not 200,000 deaths.Removes the cause and you will remove the accidents. Intermediary measures will be useless. Compulsory automobile accident insurance, or worse yet, monopolistic state automobile accident insurance, a suggested remedy, will simply encourage recklessness for it will tend to remove restraint from an already careless person.FIFTEEN YEARS

Hunt's Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—Judicial experience, contrary to general
opinion, is not a prerequisite
to service on the Supreme Court of the United States.A majority of the judges now serving on the Supreme Court, in fact, never sat behind the bar until they donned the robes of associate justices on the nation's highest tribunal.This practice of picking men without former judicial experience has increased in recent years.Whereas 10 years ago all but one of the members of the court had
seen previous service on subordinate benches, today only four of the nine won their appointments
by way of promotion.Of the last seven appointments to the court, five were of men who had never before qualified for the title of "judge."THIS increasing tendency to pick for the highest court legal jurists, who have made their records off the bench is emphasized by the appointment of Harlan F. Stone to fill the seat vacated by former Justice McKenna.Stone's appointment turns the majority on the court to the side of the lay lawyers, making the fifth
member who jumped from pleader
to associate justice, as against four members who worked their way up through lower courts.Others in this group, who first donned judicial robes as members
of the highest court, are McReynolds, Brandeis, Sutherland and Butler.The four who served time on lower courts and reached the Supreme Court by way of judicial promotion are Chief Justice Taft
and Associate Justices Holmes,
Van Devanter and Sanford.Whatever else may be the result of Stone's appointment, one thing seems sure. He will bring new vigor and force to his physical makeup.

Stone is still famous at Anherst

as the most stalwart center rush in that college's football history.Unlike Chief Justice Taft, who has bulk without muscular force, Stone has bulk plus muscle. His broad shoulders and barrel-like chest aren't padded with fat. As he walks, he swings along in a loose, powerful stride like an ama-ble mastodon.There seems to be no effort behind the stride, but—try to stop him. His mere physical momentum is terrific.THERE always seems to be some senator who keeps a diary. In the present Senate
it is Henry Ashurst of Arizona.
Some day Ashurst's daily chronicles of the doings in the upper house may fill in many missing links in the chain of history.Back in the first Senate, under President Washington, William Maclay of Pennsylvania wrote his daily down lines to record interesting phases of official life.Since the season of official dinners is now on in Washington, it may be interesting to note what Maclay wrote in his diary about a presidential dinner in Washington's day."WENT to the president's dinner," he wrote, under date of Aug. 27, 1789.
"The president and Mrs. Washington sat opposite to each other in the middle of the table; the two secretaries, one at each end. It was a great dinner, and the best of the kind I was ever at. The room, however, was disagreeably
warm."First was the soup; fish roasted and boiled; meats, gammon, fowls,
etc. This was the dinner. The middle of the table was garnished
in a tasty way with small images,
flowers, etc. The dessert was,
first, apple pies, puddings, etc.,
then iced creams, jellies etc., then watermelons muskmelons, apples,
peaches, nuts. It was the most solemn dinner I ever sat at."The Hodge - Podge

SISLER IS BUSY MAKING TRADES

St. Louis' Manager Spends Much Time Exchanging and Buying New Players for The Browns

"WEEDS OUT" AND "ADDS TO"

Pitchers and Fielders are "Swapped" in Exchange for Other Players With Good Reputations

By MAX BUCKINGHAM
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

St. Louis Jan. 21—Squash matches and wholesale trading are making George Sisler, youthful manager of the Browns, one of St. Louis' busiest citizens this winter.

The manager of St. Louis' American League club flits out of a squash tournament long enough to push a half dozen members off his team in trade for a few prospects that he believes will bolster up his aggregation and put them on a "1, 2, 3," the coming season.

"First off, let me say that to come out on top the Browns must defeat Washington, New York, Detroit and Philadelphia," Sisler chirped when asked about the pennant prospects.

To do this he has started "weeding out" and "adding to" the 1924 Brown crew.

Urban Shocker, ace of the pitching staff for a number of years, went in a wholesale swap along with Bayne, Lyons and Schlieber. Shocker went to the Yankees and the latter three to Toledo in the American Association.

In exchange for Shocker, St. Louis fans this season will get to see Joe Bush, the former Yankee moundsman, performing in a Brown suit. Also, Gaston, a Yankee relief man, will come here, as will Joe Giard, last year one of the top-notchers in the American Association.

Then, when St. Louis fans thought Sisler had gone back to squash along the young manager slipped out with another wholesale trade which brings Leo Dixon, a smart St. Paul catcher to St. Louis to relieve the veteran Hank Severid. St. Paul gets pitcher Kolp, catcher Pat Collins and outfielder Cederic Durst in exchange for Dixon. Strings are held on Durst who came up two years ago to occupy Sisler's shoes in the event the Browns manager failed to recover from a serious sinus operation.

Right now Sisler has gone back to his squash and the line up appears something as follows:

First, Sisler; second, McManus, third, Robertson; short, Gerber; outfield, Jacobson, Williams, Tobin and Bennett; pitchers: VanGilder, Bush, Dixie, Davis, Druett, Danforth and Blaholder. Severid, the veteran backstop will have Dixon and Rego as his assistants.

Big headline in Connersville paper says that "Connersville will arm with automatic guns." Must be expectin' trouble Saturday.

Between basketball practice and exams, the members of the basketball squad are about as busy these days as anyone could be. Exams come first. A "flank" now means a lay-off for six weeks, or out until time for the sectionals.

On Hardwood's weekly honor roll in the Indianapolis Star this week, appears Newbold, forward, for Rushville. That is where lightning has struck twice because Bob has been on the roll two times. Lakin was on one the week before.

Following the defeat at Vincennes Saturday night, the Frankfort Morning Times on Sunday, said, "Cheer up, gang, what's 21 points between friends, and besides, 175 miles is too far to carry home a slab of bacon."

With the tourney in sight Saturday, Side Lights is putting forth a great deal of energy in pointing to the game with Winchester, and urging his team to wallop 'em. Advance word is to the effect that Winchester is the weakest team in the tourney and if Connersville don't beat 'em by a big score, then something is wrong.

BOOST FREE THROWS!

Free throws. Free throws. Free throws. That makes three free throws and with three more free throws, it will be twice three free throws. Anyway, we read someplace where free throws can win or lose a game, so let's get busy and make all of the free throws.

Beautiful, But Dumb

Fanny the fan says she didn't know a basketball player was supposed to know anything about railroading, but he evidently does from all this talk about training that is going around—between halves of the Muncie Star.

Basketbawls of the Washington Democrat says: A headline in the

Newcastle Courier says "Nearly 500 in Night Classes." If they're all taking basketball, beware of them Trojans.

The Carthage Citizen started something, when they kept asking that question as to why Rushville didn't enter the county tourney, and to which Hittin' 'em replied that they weren't invited. Along comes the committee of high school principals and demands a correction of the wrong impression made concerning the Rushville entry in that tourney.

It was decided last fall that the tourney should be for county teams, and as Rushville had entered in the district tourney and could not take part in two tourneys without cutting their schedule it was agreed mutually that the affair should be for the county teams, and without the county seat; as far as not wanting Rushville to take part, it is stated that this opinion was divided among the principals, and that some were reluctant, but when Rushville withdrew the tourney plans went forward accordingly. There is no intention on the part of anyone to cause any disruption in these plans; it is a fine thing to get all of the county teams together here on a neutral floor and let them "fight it out" for the honors. Whether the county tourney will prove a financial success without Rushville, will be seen a week from Saturday, but people living in this city should take an interest in the games, and see them in action. Some of those games at Carthage were better than tourney games in the sectional.

HERE IS A POOR PICKER

That Sixth district tournament to be played at Connersville next Saturday ought to be an interesting affair. Teams entered in the meet include Connersville, Winchester, Rushville, Brookville, Greensburg, Liberty and Newcastle. Should be pretty smooth sailing for the Trojans.

REFEREE AN ACROBAT

John Miller, who refereed the game here Saturday night is going into the tumbling business. We're wondering what he calls that slide that he made across the hardwood court Saturday night.

—Markin' 'em up, Newcastle

Hittin' 'em might add to the above that Mr. Miller refereed the game here Friday night, and on two occasions rehearsed his stunts for Rushville fans, and his performance brought cheers, as well possibly as a few bruises.

GOT ONE SIDE UP NOW, WITH MOSTLY WINDOWS

'Hittin' 'em' is attempting to build a new gym for Rushville by collecting a dime for every brick required. Suggest that the old boy go slow on that dime stuff; we knew a lad once who collected 'thin dimes' and he's seen plenty of bricks ever since. But then bricks are what 'Hittin' 'em' wants, so maybe after all the plan's a good one.

—Basketbawls, Washington

A Busy Week End

Newcastle has won five straight games this year, and on Friday night they are making a big effort to annex the sixth. They play up at Muncie, and on Saturday play at the Connersville tourney.

BASKETBALL FANS ARE URGED TO SECURE THEIR TICKETS FOR THE TOURNEY AT CONNERSVILLE FROM E. B. BUTLER, PRINCIPAL. FOUR HUNDRED WERE SENT HERE AND THE SUPPLY IS GOING FAST.

No arrangements have been announced as yet concerning transportation to the games. On account of the school gym in Connersville being more than a mile from the business district, most people with automobiles are preparing to drive over and park at the school.

Seymour plays at Greensburg Friday night. A short time ago Seymour walloped Greensburg, and they are out for revenge. Then Saturday,

Columbia's Popular Grid Star.

Walter Koppisch, three-time captain of Columbia's football team, is here receiving more than mere praise for his great work on the gridiron. Royal Cooney, chairman of the student body, is presenting him with a watch, the gift of the undergraduates. Koppisch was selected as one of the halfbacks on Walter Camp's All-America.

Greensburg plays over in the tourney at Connersville, seeking further revenge.

Nurmi Greatest Runner Ever

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United States Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 21—Those who were fortunate enough to see Paavo Nurmi, the peerless Finnish runner, winning four events at the Olympic games in Paris last summer, were convinced that he was the greatest runner that ever lived.

Veteran American coaches, whose careers covered a period in which all of the British and American distance runners made famous records, did not hesitate to say that he combined all of the best style point of past runners with some unusual form that was particularly his own.

The professional estimate of Nurmi's ability was aptly stated in the words of one of the American trainers who returned from one of Nurmi's workouts and said: "That Finn will win every race he starts in. There's not a runner in the world who has much more of a chance to beat him than I have and I can't run a mile."

Another American coach offered to wager that if Nurmi wanted to do

TO DISCUSS COMBINING PURDUE AND INDIANA

Ancient Question of Consolidating Universities May be Revived at Legislature

NO DEFINITE MOVE IS MADE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—The ancient question of consolidating Indiana and Purdue universities into one big state institution appeared likely today to be revived at the present session of the legislature.

Discussion of the question is being heard among both representatives and senators, although no definite move has been made toward introducing a bill for the consolidation. The economy of having one administrative staff and the advantage to students of the combined university are being advanced in support of the move.

"The two halves of the state university should be united," declared Senator Holmes of Gary. "It is said there is too much money invested in each institution to permit the consolidation. But the schools are small now compared with what they will be forty years from now and the task will never become easier by delaying it. It should have been done years ago."

Senator Holmes said he was in favor of consolidating the two schools by moving the state university to Lafayette.

Other legislators were not as enthusiastic over the question and some declared they would fight it to the end if it comes up for serious consideration.

He was one of the Hi-Y quartette, a members of the Ben Davis Creek church, the Golden Link Bible class, a members of the Latin club and captain of the basketball team. He will be missed very much by his school mates as well as relatives and other friends.

The regular meeting of the Wednesday night millinery class, which was to have been held tonight, has been postponed on account of the Masonic banquet tonight. However, it will be held Thursday night and all the members of this class may come at that time.

The same amendment was included in the naval appropriation bill last year.

RAISE OBJECTIONS TO CONSOLIDATION BILL

Superintendent of Ft. Wayne School Objects to Combining Attendance and Probation Work

WOULD BE AN INJUSTICE

Fort Wayne, Jan. 21—Objection was raised by Louis C. Ward, superintendent of the Fort Wayne city schools today to the proposed bill for introduction in the state legislature for the consolidation of the state school attendance work with the state probation work.

"Consolidation of the two divisions in Indiana would, in my mind, be just like a small tail wagging a big dog," Ward declared.

"In Fort Wayne, we have an average of two to three cases a week carried from the attendance office to the juvenile court and out of possibly 150 court cases a year, 75 of them are placed in charge of the probation officer. To me the combining of the attendance office which deals with 20,000 Fort Wayne children, with the probation office, which deals with the delinquent children, would be an injustice to the attendance work."

The consolidation was proposed since the appointment of the committee by Governor Jackson to survey boards and commissions.

Experiment in Rural School Supervision Shows Greater Improvement With Supervisors

RUSH COUNTY IN THE TEST

Compared with Johnson County in Demonstration Attempted to Advance Rural Education

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—The first year of the experiment in rural school supervision conducted last year in Johnson and LaGrange counties was highly successful, according to the preliminary report made by Dr. H. L. Smith, dean of the Indiana University School of Education and director of the demonstration work attempted in the two counties by the General Education Board.

In order to find out the effect of supervision on the classroom work of Johnson and LaGrange Counties, written tests in reading, spelling, arithmetical computation and arithmetical reasoning were given near the beginning and near the end of the school year to all pupils in these counties in grades three to eight, inclusive. A language test was also given to all pupils in grades four to eight, and a reading test to second grade pupils.

To furnish a basis with which to compare the progress made during this period in the counties with supervision, the same tests were given under the same conditions and on the same dates to all pupils in the same grades in Rush and Whitley counties, which had no supervision except that given by the county superintendent and which in other respects were fairly comparable with Johnson and LaGrange Counties.

The results of the tests indicate that the pupils in the two counties with supervisors made, on the average, greater improvement than the pupils in the counties without supervisors. The average improvement of pupils in the demonstration counties was 14.3 percent greater than the average improvement in the control counties. In every grade in which tests were given, the demonstration counties made the greater improvement.

The showing in favor of the demonstration counties was better in large schools than in small schools.

In stating the conclusions of the first year's experiment in rural school demonstration Dean Smith says: "While there were variations in the results achieved from grade to grade, school to school, and county to county, on the average the children in the counties with supervisors advanced, during the period between the two tests, 14.3 percent, faster than the children in the counties without supervisors. On the basis of the same difference in progress for the entire year of 160 days, the two counties with supervisors accomplished the equivalent of 182.9 days of school work; that is, the children in two counties with supervisors actually received during the regular school year of 160 days the equivalent of 22.9 days of instruction more than they would have received had there been no supervisors.

Or, put in other terms, the two counties with supervisors, for an addition expenditure of $14,021.24 for supervision, (furnished by the General Education Board) purchased the equivalent of 22.9 days of instruction for their children, which, at the current daily cost of instruction without supervision, has a value of $38,559.48. But this is not the real value of supervision; its real value is to be found in the better education obtained by rural children within the time they have at their disposal."

The experiment in rural school demonstration is being continued in Johnson and LaGrange counties this year. The demonstrations were undertaken to advance rural education in Indiana, following the report of the Education Survey Commission submitted to the General Assembly in 1923.

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachably itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

PUFF!

Did you ever buy cream puffs that were strong on the puff but weak, very weak, on the cream?

Some coal is like that. It is strong on puff, the smoke content; but weak, very weak on the cream, that is—the carbon, the real heat-producing, lasting substance.

But that isn't the kind of coal YOU want!

And it was folks like YOU we had in mind when we bought McAlpin Pocahontas Lump Coal, the coal that is weak on smoke and puff but strong in lasting qualities.

Harold Lloyd in "Hot Water"

"If there were more pictures like that there would be less need for censors." This is what two members of the board of censors of Pasadena informed Harold Lloyd the night he previewed his newest rib-tickler, "Hot Water," which gave the Crown City audience even bigger laughs than they received in "Girl Shy."

"There is absolutely nothing in the picture that we can criticize" one of the censors told Mr. Lloyd. "It is good, clean fun of the highest order, and I think it is the funniest picture we ever have had the privilege of looking at." And in Pasadena they are what might be termed "hard boiled," when it comes to motion pictures.

"Hot Water," coming Thursday,

Friday and Saturday to the Princess theatre, is in five reels—a little shorter than most of his recent productions—but the laughs are more compact. Jobyna Ralston makes a very pretty young wife, and Josephine Crowell a mother-in-law of the czar type. Charles Stevenson and Mickey McBan are cast as the brothers-in-law. Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor directed, with the plot the work of Taylor, Tim Whelan, Thomas J. Gray and John Grey.

All Star Cast in Picture

"Revelation," Metro's screen classic, which opened today at the Castle theatre, is without doubt one of the finest pictures of the season.

There are three reasons for this. First, Mabel Wagnall's story of the little Parisian model who won her soul back through the gentle influence of posing as the Madonna, makes ideal screen material, with its swift action and vivid romance. Second, the picture has a wonder-

BOTH PUMPERS TO ANSWER ALARMS

City Council Agrees on Policy Regarding Fire Department, Following Regular Meeting

NEW FIREMAN EMPLOYED

Seven Paid Men Now on Duty, With Three Men Assigned to Each Pump—Siren Will Not Be Bought

A definite conclusion regarding the policy of the fire department was reached by members of the city council following their regular session Tuesday night, and a plan adopted which will be given a try-out, following the complete motorization of the department.

The department now has three pieces of motorized equipment, consisting of pumpers 1 and 2, and the chemical truck. The policy adopted was based on what equipment to send to alarms, and resulted in the decision that the two pumpers should answer all general alarms.

The Ford chemical will be held at the fire station to answer calls where flues are reported to be burning out, to automobile fires, or to rural districts where there is no available water supply.

One new man was added to the department, Harry Holmes, who went on duty at noon today. This brings the fire force up to 7 paid men, and of this number 6 will be on duty at all times, excepting short periods during the dinner hours. Each fireman is permitted one day and night off each week, and on certain days all 7 men will be on duty.

Each pumper will have three men assigned to it, and practically any fireman can operate the chemical truck if it is needed. The instructions given to Fire Chief Williamson state that the new pumper, known as pumper 2, shall take the lead to the fires, because it is equipped with the booster hose line to fight fires where chemicals are generally used.

The other pumper can lay the hose lines, if necessary, or if the blaze is small, and can be handled by the one piece of equipment, then the other truck is to be sent back to the fire station, to provide protection for the rest of the city.

It is expected that some opposition to the plan will be made, because many people figure that the chemical truck is the most valuable piece of equipment on hand, and should be sent with the rest of the trucks.

It was pointed out today that the chemical truck can hold a good sized fire in check while the other two pumpers are laying hose lines and hooking up to plugs. Councilmen maintain, however, that the fire force is not sufficient to handle all three pieces of equipment. If the force is not up to the manpower strength, then it should be increased.

CHAPMAN STARTED BACK UNDER A HEAVY GUARD

Man Rated as One of Most Dangerous Criminals Double-Handcuffed and Put in Leg Irons

FIVE GUARDS ARE IN CHARGE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Gerald Chapman, rated by federal authorities as one of the most dangerous criminals in the country, was on his way back to the federal prison at Atlanta this afternoon under heavy guard.

Chapman was double handcuffed and put in leg irons and was hurried through side streets from the county jail to the Union Station where he was taken up the freight elevator and put on board the train for Atlanta.

Five guards were in charge of the prisoner and an automobile load of Department of Justice men armed with revolvers and riot guns trailed closely behind the machine in which the prisoner was taken to the station.

Chapman is being taken back to Atlanta to finish serving his sentence for a $2,000,000 mail robbery in New York. He escaped from the prison in April 1924, and was recaptured by detectives in Muncie, Ind., last Sunday.

Nothing to Prevent Transfer of Masonic Temple This Evening

There is nothing to prevent the transfer of the second floor of the Masonic Temple to Phoenix lodge No. 62, at the housewarming tonight, because the money to pay off all indebtedness against Phoenix Masonic Temple association, owner of the building, was deposited in the Rush County National bank this afternoon it was stated with authority.

The statement was issued to offset rumors that the plan to turn the second story over to the lodge debt-free had failed. The name of the purchaser of the first floor of the building was withheld as the deal was completed today so that the lodge could be given formal possession this evening.

MINORITY REPORT KILLED IN SENATE

Bill Prohibiting Wearing of Religious Emblems by School Teachers Sent to Graveyard

OPENS FORENSIC FIREWORKS

Eloquent Politician and Religious Speeches and Sermons on Question Precede Vote

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Klu Klux Klan forces were overwhelmingly defeated in the state senate today.

After a series of fiery and eloquent political and religious speeches and sermons, the senate voted 41 to 6, killing a minority committee report which recommended passage of the Senator Sims bill prohibiting the wearing of any religious emblem or garment by teachers in the public schools of Indiana.

The senate also postponed action until tomorrow on a minority report recommending passage of the Sims bill requiring the reading of the Bible in public schools.

The name of the Klan was brought out first on the floor by Senator Chambers of Newcastle, during debate on the emblem and robe bill.

"This is one of the repeated Klu Klux Klan bills," Senator Chambers declared, "it seems to be a much avoided topic among the members of the majority of this house. I want to have an opportunity to bring the Klan question out on the floor."

Senator Sims explained the bill and said that six counties of the state teachers in public schools wear black robes and crucifixes while teaching school.

This was the spark that started off the fireworks. Senator Nejd, of Whiting, declared that the bill had no business on the files of the senate.

"It even goes to the extent that a school teacher could not even wear a pin pertaining to any religious sect," he declared.

Senator Daily, Indianapolis, supported Senator Nejd, declaring that he attended the Christian church, married a Methodist, and had raised three children to be Presbyterian.

"A little religion won't hurt anybody," he declared. "I love anyone who takes religion sincerely, whether he be a Catholic, Protestant, or Jew. But this bill would even prevent a school teacher from wearing a button of the Mystic Shrine."

By arrangement of all concerned announced before the courts opened today, Ellingson will appear in police court to make affidavit that his daughter is under the age of 18.

When such an affidavit is made the police must turn the case over to juvenile authorities and her attorney can then launch his fight to have Dorothy handled by the court on a "curative basis."

THE CART BEFORE THE HORSE

First Presbyterian Church Started 100 Years Ago With 29 Members

Names of Those Who Attended First Meeting to Organize Congregation Are Familiar in Rushville Today. Three-Day Centennial Celebration Begins Thursday

The First Presbyterian church made its start with twenty-nine members one hundred years ago, January 22, 1825, and preparations have been completed for a fitting celebration of the church's centennial with an elaborate program that opens Thursday and continues until Sunday evening.

It will be a century to a day, tomorrow, since the Rev. J. F. Crowe, then president of Hanover college, and a minister, the Rev. James S. Johnson, came to Rushville to gather the people of the Presbyterian faith together and try to effect some organization.

The following persons met with them on that day: James Walker and Rebecca, his wife; Thomas Downard and Margaret, his wife; John Walker and Margaret, his wife; Robert Walker and Martha, his wife; Wm. Junkin and Elizabeth, his wife; Robert English and Elizabeth, his wife; Wm. B. Laughlin and Ruth, his wife; James Anderson and Mary, his wife; Noble Junkin and Nancy, his wife; John Hawkins and Betsy, his wife.

Prayer was offered and the church was pronounced constituted. It was unanimously resolved that the church should be denominated "The Rushville Church." Two elders were elected, James Walker and Thomas Downard.

Again the same day the session of the church met and accepted James Anderson and his wife, formerly members of the Seeder Church in Ireland, and Mrs. Ann Veder on examination.

The next day, January 23, the session met and received Horatio G. Sexton, Mrs. Sarah Perry and Mrs. Lester on examination; William Beale and Margaret, his wife, and Mrs. Sarah Jackson by certificate.

Thus the church had its beginning with twenty-nine members. Many of these names are familiar in Rushville today.

Thursday night the Rev. Harry L. Crain, D. D., pastor of the church at Frankfort and Moderator of the Synod of Indiana, will preach the opening sermon in celebration of this great event in Rushville's history.

All people of the city are urged to take part in celebration of this occasion.

The committee in charge of the Men's Dinner Friday night are now expecting over one hundred men to

OMER TRUSLER SPEAKS AT ANNIVERSARY MEET

Speaks to Newcastle Club at Celebration of Birthday of Kiwanis International Tuesday

PAUL ALLEN SPEAKS ALSO

Omer Trusler of this city, immediate past secretary of Kiwanis, district of Indiana, was the principal speaker at the Newcastle club's celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International, at Newcastle Tuesday. Paul Allen, president of the Rushville club also was a guest and spoke briefly.

Mr. Trusler urged the Kiwanis members to take advantage of the opportunities offered today to render service. "Many of us are inclined to think about yesterday and imagine tomorrow," said Mr. Trusler, "and in doing so are overlooking the big thing—today. I would emphasize the importance of today. Yesterday was and tomorrow will be. The future depends largely on what we give in service today." He declared that Kiwanians were spending too much time in thinking about tomorrow and pointed out that the smallest service rendered today may become the greatest deeds of tomorrow. His address was greatly enjoyed and he held the attention of his audience.

Mr. Allen told how the Rushville club had created cooperation between the business men and the farmers. Other guests were Donald L. Smith of Rushville; F. H. Warner of Greenfield, and Judge Ellis of Anderson.

JOYCE IS AWARDED JUDGMENT FOR $10

Question of Costs, Which are Larger Than Judgment, Not Settled in Lawyer's Fee Case

INJUNCTION SUIT THURSDAY

Hearing on Petition of I. & C. and C. I. & W. Railroad to Prevent Paving Assessment

In the law suit of John F. Boyd against Chester M. George, a complaint for attorney fees, the jury decided the case late Tuesday in favor of the plaintiff, and awarded him $10 judgment, on his demand for $25. The question of who shall pay the costs, which amount to more than the judgment, has not been settled.

The case was the third trial in the cause, with the first being before Justice Stech, who granted the plaintiff his full demand, and at the second trial, the jury failed to agree causing it to be tried for the third time Tuesday. The jury was out six hours before a verdict was returned. Mr. George offered to confess judgment for $10 in square's court.

The action involving the injunction suit against the City of Rushville, as filed by the C. I. & W. railroad and the I. & C. Traction company, seeking to enjoin the city from assessing damages against them for alleged benefits from the Morgan street paving, will be heard in court Thursday morning. The action involves a hearing before the court, without a jury.

The jury will not be used any more this term of court, and arrangements are now being made to close up the business, as the court term ends Saturday. Next week will be vacation, and the February court term will convene on February 2.

In the complaint of the Capitol Lumber Company against William Hardwick, a suit on an account, judgment has been entered for $100.50 and costs.

GOVERNOR VISITS LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

Robert E. Huen of Richmond Discusses Practical Application of Business Ethics

FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE

Points Out That Understanding and Good Will May be Accomplished Through Business Men

Robert E. Huen of Richmond, district governor of Indiana Rotary clubs, made his annual visit to the Rushville club at its regular meeting Tuesday noon at the Social club, and following an address to the club, held an executive session with the directors.

Mr. Huen discussed the practical side of Rotary and dwelt on the fact that accomplishment of its sixth object, international understanding, peace and good will, will be possible only through the practice of ethical methods in business and professions.

The district governor pointed out that there was great prospect of bringing about a better understanding between nations through business and professional men, than through the other two existing agencies, diplomats and missionaries.

The foundation of Rotary is business, he showed, because a man could not be a member if he did not have a business, which thus entitles him to a Rotary classification. Therefore, he reasoned, Rotary must function through business and Rotarians must carry back to other men in the same business the ethical standards to which Rotary aspires.

Mr. Huen said that the business man who does not follow the right practices in dealing with his customers is being forced out of business because the old policy of "Let the customer beware" no longer prevails. The successful business man, he pointed out, is the one who puts the customer's interests first.

The district governor recited an incident that came to his attention while he was in business in Japan, to show how unfair practices by one business man reacted unfavorably on all business dealings between Japan and the United States.

It is the duty of Rotary he showed to use existing agencies to promote projects in the community, instead of creating new organizations. No other agency can take the place of public schools in work among boys, he declared, and urged that the local club always work in perfect harmony.

LEE THOMAS DIES IN CHICAGO

Former Resident of This City, Expires After Operations

Lee Thomas, age about 45 years, a former railway mail clerk of this city, and son-in-law of Mrs. Frazier Johnson, 511 North Perkins streets, died Tuesday night at a hospital in Chicago, according to word received here today.

The deceased, together with his family, has been living in Chicago for several months, where he was taking a course in a chiropractic school. He had been ill for several weeks and had undergone several operations. He is survived by the widow and one son, Frazier Thomas. The body will arrive here Friday afternoon and will be taken to the home of Mrs. Johnson, where funeral services will be held, to be announced later.

CITY WATER MAINS WILL BE EXTENDED

Council Moves to Give Fire Protection in New Residential Section, Work to Start in Spring

INSURANCE ADJUSTER HERE

Prospect of Lower Rates Seen With Acquisition of New Pumper and Better Water Supply

Plans for extending the water mains into the new addition of Rushville, known as Stewart and Stewart's addition, and also across into the Belmont addition, were taken up at the regular session of the city council Tuesday evening, and work along this line will begin in the spring.

The extension of the water mains was recommended by the insurance underwriters in order to provide adequate fire protection in the district that is now without much protection, and also to provide water service to many homes in the Belmont addition.

The water main will be nearly a mile in length. It will start at Ninth and Sexton streets, extending to Eleventh, and then across through the park to Thirteenth street. The main will go east down Thirteenth to the Rushville Furniture factory, and dead ends in Main, Perkins and other streets will be connected with the main line, to be an 8 inch water line.

A survey of conditions here was made last week and it is stated that prospects are in sight for a lower fire insurance rate for Rushville, in view of the fact that the water mains are to be extended, and a bigger water supply is available at a well south of the city. The addition of the new fire truck, also will figure in the adjustment of rates.

The well south of Rushville is to be equipped with an 8 inch pipe line, and with the equipment that is being installed at the plant, it will be capable of supplying 3½ million gallons of water a day.

Regulation pumper hydrants will probably be installed at intervals along the new line extension. The pumper hydrant has a 6 inch opening for a vast water supply to accommodate the fire engines, and it is expected that hydrants of this type will be placed in the business district, so that pumpers can be supplied with more water from the city mains in case of a serious fire.

Last night was the time set for receiving bids on the sale of the two fire horses, but no one offered a bid. There were many persons inquiring about the horses before the sale, but they all hesitated in making an offer. The fire committee was instructed to sell the horses to anyone who makes the best offer.

Three additional ear loads of crushed stone were ordered to be placed on the streets. The street department is now busy working over the streets and is making a good job.

DITCH THE BUTTS, HERE COMES AN ANTI "CIG" LAW

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Ditch the butts, gang!

Another cigarette law is in the making. Thomas B. Brown, of Mt. Vernon, a member of the 1923 legislature, is in Indianapolis with the avowed purpose of presenting his famous anti-cigarette bill which failed of passage when he was in the legislature.

Although Brown declined to disclose provisions of the proposed law, it was learned the bill will be similar to the one he sponsored two years ago, which provided for a three-cent tax on every package of cigarettes sold and a one-cent tax of cigarette papers.

Brown said that the reason the 1923 bill failed was because it would have thrown all proceeds to the state general fund. This difficulty has been eliminated, he said, by dividing all revenues to the school fund.

Proponents of anti-cigarette legislation are handicapped at this session because neither Brown nor John A. Peterson, former representative from Swayzee, co-author of the 1923 session are members of the present legislature. However, Brown is seeking an enemy of cigarettes among the lawmakers of this session who will present his measure and stand sponsor for it.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

Attention was called to the fact that many people are violating the ordinance concerning the dumping of ashes in alleys. This is a direct violation of the law, and police will be notified to put a stop to the practice.

Will Dill, special engineer for the city, who was instructed several weeks ago to investigate the Hodges Branch drain proposition, was present and gave his preliminary report, in which it contained recommendations that the C. City officials will meet with the C. I. & W. engineers at an early date, and some kind of an agreement will be attempted, before further plans of enclosing the ditch are taken up.

OPPOSITION TO

Senator James J. Nedjl, Republican Floor Leader, Calls it "Revolutionary and Radical"

CONSTABULARY CAMOUFLAGE
Creating Board of Public Safety
Through Combination of Boards is Criticized

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Opposition to the recommendations of Governor Jackson's survey committee developed among members of the legislature today.

The report of the committee, which was appointed by Jackson last fall to study state institutions and departments, recommended sweeping changes in the structure of the government.

Senator James J. Nedjl, of Whiting, Republican floor leader in the senate, described the report as "revolutionary and radical."

The move to create a board of public safety through combination of boards having police power is nothing more than a state constabulary in camouflage, he said.

Nedjl also took issue with the proposal to reduce the membership of the state industrial board from five to three members.

"The board was increased to five members because of the large volume of business it must handle, and it is still unable to keep up with its work," Nedjl said.

The senate leader also scored the recommendation that the office of state superintendent of public instruction be made an appointive office instead of elective.

"That change must never be made if the state schools are to be kept free of political domination," Nedjl said. "An organization might control one man, but it can't control the votes of all the people."

Several members of the legislature expressed opposition to the move to abolish the state printing board and give its work to the purchasing department. Other recommendations were questioned in discussions of senators and representatives.

Governor Jackson declared he had no comment to make on the committee's proposals and would leave the report entirely up to the legislature for rejection or adoption.

John H. Kiplinger of this city is a member of Governor Jackson's survey committee, which has prepared a report recommending radical changes in state government. Other members are Arthur Baxter of Indianapolis, former state chairman, and Lawrence Cartwright of Portland.

ANSWER ALARM

others argue.

The salary of two extra men for the department during a year might save more property than one fire does damage, and it was pointed out today that taxpayers should be afforded the best possible protection, even if it were necessary to bring the manpower up to what it should be in order to handle the equipment.

The electric siren which is here on a trial, and which was being considered to take the place of the fire bell, will not be bought, because the siren fails to carry the sound sufficiently to all parts of the city. A steam siren or whistle is now being considered.

EDWARDS NOT TO TESTIFY

Washington, Jan. 21—Senator Edward I. Edwards, New Jersey democrat, charged with being implicated with a New Jersey bootlegger ring, made known today that he will not testify in the Jersey City liquor trial in which his name was mentioned, on his own initiative. His appearance must be requested by a responsible party, he said.

BUS REGULATION
NOW CONSIDERED

Senator Moorehead has Bill Concerning Traffic Problems, Similar to One That Was Defeated

CONCERNS BUSES, TRUCKS
Would be Classified as Common Carriers,
Subject to Public Service Commission Rulings

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—Another move to regulate busses and trucks serving as common carriers in Indiana was in progress in the legislature today.

Senator Moorehead, of Indianapolis, has introduced a bus bill similar in many respects to his measure which went through the senate two years ago and was defeated in the house.

The bill provides for state licensing of trucks and busses and for their regulation by the state public service commission.

Under the bill all motor vehicles carrying passengers or property for compensation would be subject to the regulation, with the exception of taxicabs, hotel busses, school busses and funeral busses.

The public service commission would be vested with authority to draw up regulations for the licensing of the carriers and their operation.

Holders of licenses would be required to put up a surety bond approved by the commission to cover inquiries to persons or damage to property suffered through negligent operation of the vehicles.

The bill specifies that licenses shall be granted only after a public hearing by the commission at which railroads and interurbans which would be affected by the competition of the new carriers could be represented.

Both Governor Branch and Governor Jackson in their messages to the legislature recommended state regulation of the busses and trucks and advised that the power to regulate be given to the public service commission.

Bus interests of the state, however, will fight to have the authority given to the state highway commission.

Truck owners have declared in favor of leaving the whole question of regulation open for two years more while a commission appointed by the state investigates the problems of the new form of transportation and recommends specific regulatory measures.

The subject of the sermon tonight will be, "What It Will Take to Move Rushville." Services were resumed Tuesday evening with a sermon by the Rev. Mr. Waters on the subject "Mutual Sympathy and Burden Bearing." A good sized audience was in attendance and a duet and vocal solo were features of the meeting. Special music is being arranged for each night.

Senator Holmes of Gary objected to the measure and declared that much of the educational problems today are due to the fact that lawmakers will not leave educators alone.

The bill was not sponsored by the counties which is would affect, Senator Moorehead of Indianapolis, declared and charged that there were other motives behind it.

He said Roman Catholic instructors were employed in the public schools there in order that the townships may save money.

seeing the black abyss toward which Dorothy was headed, sought to change her course.

Dorothy grew weary of constant interference and took her mother's life—then went to another party. In jail, she displays no remorse and no pity, either for herself or others.

What queer twist is it that makes it possible for her to be so merciless and brazen? What kind of a life philosophy must one have to be able to show such demeanor—an affront to common decency?

Girls and boys have done unprecedented things in this age of thrills,
but none has yet approached the
heinous crime that this young girl
has committed.

Although the average small community does not want the allures of excitement, there are enough to give pause to parents, wherever they may live.

No such a fate in life awaits the ordinary girl, because this girl's
deed is extraordinary—without precedent, but her life was ordinary.
There was no poverty in her home
and she had no reason for following the wrong path.

Dorothy's parents quarreled and
separated, unable to agree how her conduct should be regulated. Her brother was estranged. If there was cause, but the effect of her waywardness.

The psychologists may be expected to discourse at length on her men-talities, with ponderous, tongue-twisting words, but most ordinary people will have to conclude that she is just crazy—nothing less.

Without Precedent

Secretary Hoover, in an address
before the National Conference on
street and highway safety, asked for
the co-operation of all interests in
an effort to reduce the now rapidly
increasing number of deaths and injuries due to traffic accidents. He stated that there were 22,000 such
deaths and 678,000 serious injuries
last year and that nearly 80 percent
of the highway accidents were due to the automobile.

All the rules, regulations and laws
that can be passed will be of little or no avail so long as any man or woman can buy an automobile one
minute, step into the state licensing
department and get a permit to drive
the next minute, regardless of his
familiarity with the car, its operation or road rules. No other piece of machinery in the world is operated
on such a haphazard basis. The marvel is that instead of 22,000 deaths a year, there are not 200,000 deaths.

Removes the cause and you will remove the accidents. Intermediary measures will be useless. Compulsory automobile accident insurance, or
worse yet, monopolistic state automobile accident insurance, a suggested remedy, will simply encourage recklessness for it will tend to remove restraint from an already careless person.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Friday, Jan. 21, 1910.

Mrs. Mary L. Hoven will entertain with a whist party a number of Rushville people at her home in Indianapolis Saturday night in honor of Miss Frances Sexton.

At the meeting of the members of the local chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution it was agreed that they would open reading rooms. The location has not been decided but as soon as suitable quarters can be found the reading rooms will be open.

Dick Wilson, the veteran horseman, together with his wife, son William Wilson and wife will leave for Portland, Oregon, soon, where they will reside permanently.
Snow storms or floods have no terrors for her because she wades right through swollen streams and snowbanks just as if they were not there. Mrs. Ora Clevenger averages one day out of every week walking to Rushville.

All that it lacked for a real banquet was the tobacco and so the name of dinner has to be applied to the elaborate feast which Misses Mary and Ethel Amos gave last night to a number of friends at the home of Miss Mary in North Perkins street in honor of Miss Francis Sexton, whose wedding takes place
January 28.

Mrs. Jess Stevens and children
Margaret and Elizabeth of Richmond who were visiting her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. John Dickens, and other relatives have returned home. (In

Miss Ramona Norris was the guest of Miss Pearl Kizer Wednesday night. (Carthage correspondent.)

Miss Mae Bebout is in Indianapolis for a few days acting as stenographer for Charles Henry, president of the I. & C. traction company.

Mrs. Lucinda Brown will leave soon for New York, where she will visit her sister for several months.
She will return in June and accompany her granddaughter, Miss Lucille Wilson, to Portland, Oregon, where they will reside permanently.

The members of the U. Go I Go club will give a big dance in the Modern Woodman Hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 3.

In the most exciting basketball game of the season the Carthage high school team went down to defeat last night before the Rushville high school team. The final score was 26 to 19. The game was hard fought every minute of the time and the result was in doubt until the last whistle had blown.

William Stewart, who has been confined to his home in North Morgan street with illness, is slowly improving.

Hunt's Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—Judicial experience, contrary to general
opinion, is not a prerequisite
to service on the Supreme Court of the United States.

A majority of the judges now
serving on the Supreme Court, in
fact, never sat behind the bar until they donned the robes of association on the nation's highest tribunal.

This practice of picking men
without former judicial experience
has increased in recent years.

Whereas 10 years ago all but one of the members of the court had
seen previous service on subordinate benches, today only four of
the nine won their appointments
by way of promotion.

Of the last seven appointments
to the court, five were of men who
had never before qualified for the title of "judge."

THIS increasing tendency to pick for the highest court legal luminaries who have made their records of the bench is emphasized by the appointment of Harlan F. Stone to fill the seat vi-cated by former Justice McKenna.

Stone's appointment turns the majority on the court to the side of
the lay lawyers, making the fifth
member who jumped from pleader
to associate justice, as against four
members who worked their way
up through lower courts.

Others in this group, who first donned judicial robes as members
of the highest court, are McReynolds, Brandeis, Sutherland and Butler.

The four who served time on lower courts and reached the Supreme Court by way of judicial promotion are Chief Justice Taft
and Associate Justices Holmes,
Van Devanter and Sanford.

Whatever else may be the result of Stone's appointment, one thing
seems sure. He will bring new vigor and force to his physical makeup.

Stone is still famous at Amherst.

Since the season of official din-

Maclay wrote in his diary about a presidential dinner in Washing-

"WENT to the president's dinner," he wrote, under
date of Aug. 27, 1789.
"The president and Mrs. Washington sat opposite to each other in
the middle of the table; the two secretaries, one at each end. It was a great dinner, and the best
of the kind I was ever at. The
room, however, was disagreeably
warm."

"First was the soup; fish roasted and broiled; meats, gammon, fowls,
etc. This was the dinner. The middle of the table was garnished
in a tasty way with small images,
flowers, etc. The dessert was
first, apple pies, puddings, etc.,
then lead creams, jellies etc., then
watermelons muskmelons, apples,
peaches, nuts. It was the most solemn dinner I ever sat at."

ECHOES FROM THE

Indianapolis, Jan. 21.—A bill to establish the boundary line between Starke and Laporte county which has disappeared since the drying of the aKankakee river, the original line of demarcation will be introduced in the state house of Representatives by Representative Hull.

Senator Earl Payne of Bloomington is completing the draft on a bill
he will introduce in the legislature to provide state highway funds out of a direct property tax.

He proposed that the gasoline tax and auto license fee revenues, which now goes to the highway commission, be divided among the counties for road construction and maintenance.

The measure would reduce highway levies in seventy-six counties and increase it in the remaining sixteen counties, according to Senator Payne.

J. Monroe Fitch, of Muncie, found himself in a serious predicament today.

When he complained he had two committee meetings at the same hour Lieutenant Governor F. Harold VanOrman said:

"Well, the gentleman from Muncie may divide himself up as well as possible."

Any increase in the gasoline tax and automobile license fees by the state legislature will be opposed by the Hoosier Motor Club. This was the announcement made by the board of directors of the club.

SISLER IS BUSY MAKING TRADES

St. Louis Manager Spends Much Time Exchanging and Buying New Players for The Browns

"WEEDS OUT" AND "ADDS TO"

Fitchers and Fielders are "Swapped" in Exchange for Other Players With Good Reputations

By MAX BUCKINGHAM
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

St. Louis Jan. 21.—Squash matches and wholesale trading are making George Sisler, youthful manager of the Browns, one of St. Louis' busiest citizens this winter.

The manager of St. Louis' American League club fits out of a squash tournament long enough to push a half dozen members off his team in trade for a few prospects that he believes will bolster up his aggregation and put them on a "1, 2, 3" the coming season.

"First off, let me say that to come out on top the Browns must defeat Washington, New York, Detroit and Philadelphia," Sisler chirped when asked about the pennant prospects.

To do this he has started "weeding out" and "adding to" the 1924 Brown crew.

Urban Shocker, ace of the pitching staff for a number of years, went in a wholesale swap along with Wayne Lyons and Schliebner. Shocker went to the Yankees and the latter three to Toledo in the American Association.

In exchange for Shocker, St. Louis fans this season will get to see Joe Bush, the former Yankee moundsman, performing in a Brown suit. Also, Gaston, a Yankee relief man, will come here, as will Joe Giard, last year one of the top-notchers in the American Association.

Then, when St. Louis fans thought Sisler had gone back to squash again the young manager slipped out with another wholesale trade which brings Leo Dixon, a smart St. Paul catcher to St. Louis to relieve the veteran Hank Severid. St. Paul gets pitcher Kohr, catcher Pat Collins and outfielder Cederic Durst in exchange for Dixon. Strings are held on Durst who came up two years ago to occupy Sisler's shoes in the event the Browns manager failed to recover from a serious sinus operation.

Right now Sisler has gone back to his squash and the line up appears something as follows:

First, Sisler; second, McManus, third, Robertson; short, Gerber; outfield, Jacobson, Williams, Tobin and Bennett; pitchers: VanGilder, Bush, Dixie, Davis, Druett, Danforth and Blackholder. Severid, the veteran backstop will have Dixon and Rego as his assistants.

LOADIN' UP FOR US!

Big headline in Connersville paper says that "Connersville will arm with automatic guns." Must be expectin' trouble Saturday.

Between basketball practice and exams, the members of the basketball squad are about as busy these days as anyone could be. Exams come first. A "lunk" now means a lay-off for six weeks, or out until time for the sectionals.

On Hardwood's weekly honor roll in the Indianapolis Star this week, appears Newbold, forward, for Rushville. That is where lightning has struck twice because Bob has been on the roll two times. Lakin was on one the week before.

Following the defeat at Vincennes Saturday night, the Frankfort Morning Times on Sunday, said, "Cheer up, gang, what's 21 points between friends, and besides, 175 miles is too far to carry home a slab of bacon."

With the tourney in sight Saturday, Side Lights is putting forth a great deal of energy in pointing to the game with Winchester, and urging his team to wallop 'em. Advance word is to the effect that Winchester is the weakest team in the tourney and if Connersville don't beat 'em by a big score, then something is wrong.

BOOST FREE THROWS!

Free throws. Free throws. Free throws. That makes three free throws and with three more free throws, it will be twice three free throws. Anyway, we read somewhere where free throws can win or lose a game, so let's get busy and make all of the free throws.

Beautiful, But Dumb

Fanny the fan says she didn't know a basketball player was supposed to know anything about rail-roading, but he evidently does from all this talk about training that is going around—Between Halves of the Muncie Star.

Basketbawls of the Washington Democrat says: A headline in the

Newcastle Courier says "Nearly 500 in Night Classes." If they're all taking basketball, beware of them Trojans.

The Carthage Citizen started something, when they kept asking that question as to why Rushville didn't enter the county tourney, and to which Hittin' 'em replied that they weren't invited. Along comes the committee of high school principals and demands a correction of the wrong impression made concerning the Rushville entry in that tourney.

It was decided last fall that the tourney should be for county teams, and as Rushville had entered in the district tourney and could not take part in two tourneys without cutting their schedule it was agreed mutually that the affair should be for the county teams, and without the county seat as far as not wanting Rushville to take part, it is stated that this opinion was divided among the principals, and that some were reluctant, but when Rushville withdrew the tourney plans went forward accordingly. There is no intention on the part of anyone to cause any disruption in these plans; it is a fine thing to get all of the county teams together here on a neutral floor and let them "fight it out" for the honors. Whether the county tourney will prove a financial success without Rushville, will be seen a week from Saturday, but people living in this city should take an interest in the games, and see them in action. Some of those games at Carthage were better than tourney games in the sectional.

HERE IS A POOR PICKER

That Sixth district tournament to be played at Connersville next Saturday ought to be an interesting affair. Teams entered in the meet include Connersville, Winchester, Rushville, Brookville, Greensburg, Liberty and Newcastle. Should be pretty smooth sailing for the Trojans.

REFEREE AN ACROBAT

John Miller, who refereed the game here Saturday night is going into the tumbling business. We're wondering what he calls that slide that he made across the hardwood court Saturday night.

—Markin' 'em up, Newcastle

Hittin' 'em might add to the above that Mr. Miller refereed the game here Friday night, and on two occasions rehearsed his stunts for Rushville fans, and his performance brought cheers, as well possibly as a few bruises.

GOT ONE SIDE UP NOW, WITH MOSTLY WINDOWS

Hittin' 'em is attempting to build a new gym for Rushville by collecting a dime for every brick required. Suggest that the old boy go slow on that dime stuff; we knew a lad once who collected 'thin dimes' and he's seen plenty of bricks ever since. But then bricks are what Hittin' 'em wants, so maybe after all the plan's a good one.

—Basketbawls, Washington

A Busy Week End

Newcastle has won five straight games this year, and on Friday night they are making a big effort to annex the sixth. They play up at Muncie, and on Saturday play at the Connersville tourney.

BASKETBALL FANS ARE URGED TO SECURE THEIR TICKETS FOR THE TOURNEY AT CONNERSVILLE FROM E. B. BUTLER, PRINCIPAL. FOUR HUNDRED WERE SENT HERE AND THE SUPPLY IS GOING FAST.

No arrangements have been announced as yet concerning transportation to the games. On account of the school gym in Connersville being more than a mile from the business district, most people with automobiles are preparing to drive over and park at the school.

Seymour plays at Greensburg Friday night. A short time ago Seymour walloped Greensburg, and they are out for revenge. Then Saturday,

Columbia's Popular Grid Star.

Walter Koppisch, three-time captain of Columbia's football team, is being receiving more than mere praise for his great work on the gridiron. Bruce Cooney, chairman of the student body, is presenting him with a watch, the gift of the undergraduates. Koppisch was selected as one of the best backs on Walter Camp's All-American.

Greensburg plays over in the tourney at Connersville, seeking further revenge.

Nurmi Greatest Runner Ever

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United States Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 21.—Those who were fortunate enough to see Paavo Nurmi, the peerless Finnish runner, winning four events at the Olympic games in Paris last summer, were convinced that he was the greatest runner that ever lived.

Veteran American coaches, whose careers covered a period in which all of the British and American distance runners made famous records, did not hesitate to say that he combined all of the best style point of past runners with some unusual form that was particularly his own.

The professional estimate of Nurmi's ability was aptly stated in the words of one of the American trainers who returned from one of Nurmi's workouts and said: "That Finn will win every race he starts in. There's not a runner in the world who has much more of a chance to beat him than I have and I can't run a mile."

Another American coach offered to wager that if Nurmi wanted to do

Here's Earl McNeely, Washington outsider, who drove in the run that decided the 1924 world series with the Giants. It won the title for Washington. That base hit no doubt has caused McNeely to boost his price for the coming season as he is already listed among the top players.

TO DISCUSS COMBINING PURDUE AND INDIANA

Ancient Question of Consolidating Universities May be Revived at Legislature

NO DEFINITE MOVE IS MADE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21.—The ancient question of consolidating Indiana and Purdue universities into one big state institution appeared likely today to be revived at the present session of the legislature.

Discussion of the question is being heard among both representatives and senators, although no definite move has been made toward introducing a bill for the consolidation.

The economy of having one administrative staff and the advantage to students of the combined university are being advanced in support of the move.

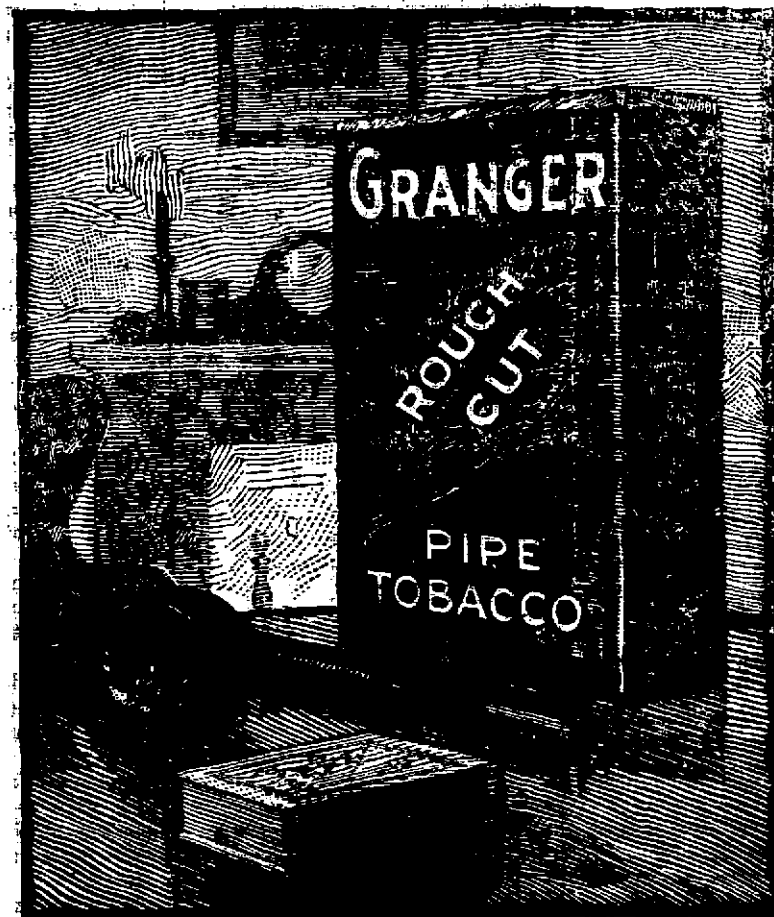

"The two halves of the state university should be united," declared Senator Holmes of Gary. "It is said there is too much money invested in each institution to permit the consolidation. But the schools are small now compared with what they will be forty years from now, and the task will never become easier by delaying it. It should have been done years ago."

Senator Holmes said he was in favor of consolidating the two schools by moving the state university to Lafayette.

Other legislators were not as enthusiastic over the question and some declared they would fight it to the end if it comes up for serious consideration.

Theodore and Joe Custer, Clyde Gordon, Robert Myers, Adairan Eckert and Richard Pratt. These boys were members of the Hi-Y club of which Robert was vice-president. He was one of the Hi-Y quartette, a members of the Ben Davis Creek church, the Golden Link Bible class, a members of the Latin club, and captain of the basketball team. He will be missed very much by his school mates as well as relatives and other friends.

The regular meeting of the Wednesday night millinery class, which was to have been held tonight, has been postponed on account of the Masquerade banquet tonight. However, it will be held Thursday night and all the members of this class may come at that time.

Its coolness and mellow "body" are a revelation to pipe smokers

Back about 1870 James N. Williams developed a secret process which won instant and widespread favor. It yielded a fully bodied richness, mellowness and fragrance which just seemed to go with a pipe. No one else ever knew his secret until we acquired "Williams Method" and by its means made Granger Rough Cut.

Senate Goes on Record in Favor of Naval Armaments Limitation

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 21—The senate today went on record as favoring another world conference on limitation of naval armaments.
Without objection the senate adopted an amendment to the naval appropriation bill introduced by Senator King, Utah, democrat, urging the president to call another conference at the time when in his judgment it would seem advisable.
The same amendment was included in the naval appropriation bill last year.

RAISE OBJECTIONS TO CONSOLIDATION BILL

Superintendent of Ft. Wayne School Objects to Combining Attendance and Probation Work

WOULD BE AN INJUSTICE

Fort Wayne, Jan. 21—Objection was raised by Louis C. Ward, superintendent of the Fort Wayne city schools today to the proposal bill for introduction in the state legislature for the consolidation of the state school attendance work with the state probation work.

"Consolidation of the two divisions in Indiana would, in my mind, be just like a small tail wagging a big dog," Ward declared.

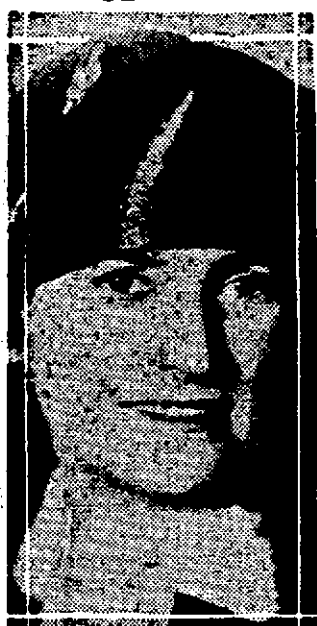

"In Fort Wayne, we have an average of two to three cases a week carried from the attendance office to the juvenile court and out of possibly 150 court cases a year, 75 of them are placed in charge of the probation officer. To me the combining of the attendance office which deals with 20,000 Fort Wayne children, with the probation office, which deals with the delinquent children, would be an injustice to the attendance work."

The consolidation was proposed since the appointment of the committee by Governor Jackson to survey boards and commissions.

Experiment in Rural School Supervision Shows Greater Improvement With Supervisors

RUSH COUNTY IN THE TEST

Compared with Johnson County in Demonstration Attempted to Advance Rural Education

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21—The first year of the experiment in rural school supervision conducted last year in Johnson and LaGrange counties was highly successful, according to the preliminary report made by Dr. H. L. Smith, dean of the Indiana University School of Education and director of the demonstration work attempted in the two counties by the General Education Board.

In order to find out the effect of supervision on the classroom work of Johnson and LaGrange Counties, written tests in reading, spelling, arithmetical computation and arithmetical reasoning were given near the beginning and near the end of the school year to all pupils in these counties in grades three to eight, inclusive. A language test was also given to all pupils in grades four to eight, and a reading test to second grade pupils.

To furnish a basis with which to compare the progress made during this period in the counties with supervision, the same tests were given under the same conditions and on the same dates to all pupils in the same grades in Rush and Whitley counties, which had no supervision except that given by the county superintendent and which in other respects were fairly comparable with Johnson and LaGrange Counties.

The results of the tests indicate that the pupils in the two counties with supervisors made, on the average, greater improvement than the pupils in the counties without supervisors. The average improvement of pupils in the demonstration counties was 14.3 percent greater than the average improvement in the control counties. In every grade in which tests were given, the demonstration counties made the greater improvement.

The showing in favor of the demonstration counties was better in large schools than in small schools.

In stating the conclusions of the first year's experiment in rural school demonstration Dean Smith says: "While there were variations in the results achieved from grade to grade, school to school, and county to county, on the average the children in the counties with supervisors advanced, during the period between the two tests, 14.3 percent, faster than the children in the counties without supervisors. On the basis of the same difference in progress for the entire year of 160 days, the two counties with supervisors accomplished the equivalent of 182.9 days of school work; that is, the children in two counties with supervisors actually received during the regular school year of 160 days the equivalent of 22.9 days of instruction more than they would have received had there been no supervisors.

Or, put in other terms, the two counties with supervisors, for an additional expenditure of $14,021.24 for supervision, (furnished by the General Education Board) purchased the equivalent of 22.9 days of instruction for their children, which, at the current daily cost of instruction without supervision, has a value of $38,559.48. But this is not the real value of supervision; its real value is to be found in the better education obtained by rural children within the time they have at their disposal."

The experiment in rural school demonstration is being continued in Johnson and LaGrange counties this year. The demonstrations were undertaken to advance rural education in Indiana, following the report of the Education Survey Commission submitted to the General Assembly in 1923.

Harold Lloyd in "Hot Water"

"If there were more pictures like that, there would be less need for censors." This is what two members of the board of censors of Pasadena informed Harold Lloyd the night he previewed his newest rib-tickler, "Hot Water," which gave the Crown City audience even bigger laughs than they received in "Girl Shy."
"There is absolutely nothing in the picture that we can criticize" one of the censors told Mr. Lloyd. "It is good, clean fun of the highest order, and I think it is the funniest picture we ever have had the privilege of looking at." And in Pasadena they are what might be termed "hard boiled," when it comes to motion pictures.
"Hot Water," coming Thursday,

Friday and Saturday to the Princess theatre, is in five reels—a little shorter than most of his recent productions—but the laughs are more compact. Jobyna Ralston makes a very pretty young wife, and Josephine Crowell a mother-in-law of the czar type. Charles Stevenson and Mickey McBan are cast as the brothers-in-law. Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor directed, with the plot the work of Taylor, Tim Whelan, Thomas J. Gray and John Grey.

All Star Cast In Picture

"Revelation," Metro's screen classic, which opened today at the Castle theatre, is without doubt one of the finest pictures of the season.
There are three reasons for this. First, Mabel Wagnall's story of the little Parisian model who won her soul back through the gentle influence of posing as the Madonna, makes ideal screen material, with its swift action and vivid romance.
Second, the picture has a wonder-
